Cambridge International Systems, Inc. is a woman-owned, veteran-owned company headquartered in Arlington, Virginia, with multiple regional and global offices. We support vital national security interests and capacity building. With a talented staff that includes engineers, analysts, technicians, linguists, operations personnel and program managers, Cambridge has performed work in over 40 countries worldwide. We provide expertise and services in aviation, construction, intelligence collection and analysis, IT service management, mission support, systems engineering, and software development. Cambridge has a strong record of corporate growth, and we expect that to continue in the many years ahead.

Mission

Cambridge supports the U.S. Government and partner nations in addressing their national security and capacity building needs. We design and deliver products and services that protect our borders and create a safer world.

Trusted Partner

In the United States, Cambridge has supported every military service, the Combatant Commands as well as the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and the intelligence community. Our ability to design, deliver, and operate under difficult conditions has established us as a trusted and proven partner. We have also earned a reputation for our unwavering commitment to our mission and for providing outstanding service to our customers. Cambridge continually receives "exceptional" CPARS ratings and multiple repeat customers.

Global Performance

Cambridge has delivered solutions in more than 40 countries worldwide and we take pride in the global service we provide. We maintain an active export (ITAR) compliance program and have an established process for quick deployment of technical staff to both CONUS and OCONUS locations.

Core Values

Cambridge has a performance-based culture that is grounded in a set of core values which include commitment, integrity, and perseverance. These core values are the building blocks of our corporate culture and they unify our diverse, global employee base. These values help define who we are, and serve as a guide for continued growth and professional excellence. They also help us maintain enduring relationships with our clients, our employees, and our business partners.
